PULSED ELECTRO MAGNETIC FIELD THERAPY (PEMF) Magna Wave™ Onsite at TF North Arena, WI & TF South Ocala, FL

The MAGNA WAVE, HIGH VOLTAGE PULSED ELECTRO-MAGNETIC FREQUENCY THERAPY, is a revolutionary medical device that has shown amazing healing results in the treatment of pain, swelling, as well as dramatically improving range of motion in both humans and animals.

PEMF might seem like a new technology in North America, but it has been safely used throughout Europe and other countries for more than 50 years. 2000+ studies have proven the benefits of PEMF and it is a widely used therapy for multiple conditions, improved health and enhanced performance of humans and animals (including dogs, cats, and show, race, and pleasure horses) around the world. PEMF uses a powerful electro-magnetic field that provides natural energy to the cells of the body.

This increases energy and helps the body heal itself. Because of its deep penetration it is particularly effective in relieving deep muscle soreness, as well as an alternative to drugs for the treatment of pain and inflammation due to arthritis, tendon/ligament injuries and performance stress. The therapy is noninvasive, no medication is required as a pretreatment for therapy, and dramatic results are experienced after just one treatment.

My own personal experiences with Magna Wave this past year have been: replaced hock injections for the horses, replaced pain medication for the dogs, and is healing the "gray horse wart" cancerous sarcomas. Not to mention, replacing surgery for the humans and alleviating our everyday aches and pains. It truly is "fountain of youth" technology.

THE SCIENCE:

1. Atomic excitement, stimulating the spin of the electron to store energy that could last for up to three days.
2. Molecules tend to align slightly with each magnetic pulse, making them easier to combine, especially when excited.
3. The pH goes a hundred times more alkaline, which allows better oxygen uptake, and suppresses some harmful entities.
4. The viscosity shifts on the order of 16 fold allowing liquids to flow into cell gates or lymph to thin and flow.
5. Red blood cells separate (taking a positive charge and repel each other) in minutes which allows more surface area to transport oxygen.
6. There is an apparent relaxing of the vascular system within minutes of completing a Magna Wave session, which drops blood pressure by twenty to thirty percent.
7. There is a systemic response to the sessions as though the body's functions have been fine-tuned or turbo charged. Because of this many problems get better, often not the targeted problem, but things not expected also improve. Wounds heal in one third normal time.
8. Bone mending, improved quality of calcium is produced in one-third of the normal time. The skin of the bone seems to develop cells more like the DNA dictates.
9. Electroporation is the phenomena wherein the cells gates open to allow more passage of solvent (H2O) to dissolve toxins, or allow better delivery of a medicine or herb.
10. The hardest one to accept is the cell can change some of the sodium back to potassium, which is documented in a US Army study, and this reduces pain, often fading pain away in minutes.
11. The electromagnetic pulse is causing the horse to generate tiny little micro currents, and the energy tends to run through the neural pathways. This seems to swamp the C fibers from accessing the neural gates which allow the pain signal to stream to the brain. Less-signal, less pain perception.
12. As the speed of the pulse is so fast (less than a millionth of a second) because of this we can use tremendous amounts of energy without there being time to heat the atom. We can pulse energy into an area for as long as an hour without adverse reactions in most cases, so serious problems can take the extra energy needed to do extra work.
